Virus kills off sales of nodders

SOCIAL distancing has reduced sales of condoms and sexual health products, according to global consumer goods giant Reckitt Benckiser (RB). And bosses suggest this could have a knock-on effect on its baby formula business next year due to an expected fall in the global birth rate.

However, sales of air fresheners and cleaning products are soaring as workers focus on improving their new home offices.

Disinfectants remain in high demand and RB said its Dettol and Lysol products are winning new business, entering 19 new countries since February.

The company – which owns brands including Airwick, Veet, Durex and Strepsils – said sales in the three months to the end of September jumped 6.9% to £3.51 billion.

Deaths soar in pandemic surge

THE number of weekly registered coronavirus deaths has risen beyond 400 and increased by a third in the space of seven days, figures show.

Some 438 deaths mentioning “novel coronavirus” were registered in England and Wales in the week ending October 9, the Office for National Statistics (ONS) said.

This is a rise of 36% (117 deaths) from the previous week – which saw the highest number of deaths involving Covid-19 since early July.

The North West saw the largest number of coronavirus deaths registered with 153.

BRIDAL CLOWN!

Rail bosses blast wedding photoshoot on the tracks

A BRIDAL couple who posed for wedding photographs on railway tracks have been slammed by Network Rail.

The newlyweds were caught on CCTV standing and embracing on a line near Whitby, North Yorkshire.

More than 5,000 trespassing incidents were recorded between June and September, with many involving people using the railways as a backdrop for photos.

Network Rail said taking selfies and photo shoots were “plain stupidity”.

Supt Alison Evans, of British Transport Police, said: “The railway is not an appropriate or safe setting for a photographic backdrop.”

Leftie Len sorry for ‘count gold’ Mandelson jibe

HARD Left union bruiser Len McCluskey sparked a new Labour anti-Semitism row after telling Tony Blair’s former spin chief Peter Mandelson to go away and ‘count his gold’.

The Unite kingpin (above) took to Twitter to hastily apologise after aiming the barb at Mr Mandelson – whose father was Jewish – in a BBC Newsnight interview.

He was being asked about the former Hartlepool MP – now Lord Mandelson – praising Sir Keir Starmer’s new leadership of Labour when he lashed out, saying: “I stopped listening to what Peter Mandelson said many, many years ago.”

“I would suggest that Peter just goes into a room and counts his gold and not worry about what’s happening in the Labour Party. Leave that to those of us that are interested in ordinary working people.”

He later backed down on social media, tweeting: “Before this gets out of hand, let me say language is important. I apologise to Peter Mandelson and anyone else if mine has caused hurt.”

SOD OFF, HANCOCK!

Council boss hits out at moves to place his town in Tier 3

TALKING TOUGH: Hancock and Shane Moore (right)

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A COUNCIL leader has rejected talk of his town being placed in Tier 3 of coronavirus restrictions, saying anyone suggesting it will be told to “sod off”.

Health Secretary Matt Hancock said on Monday that talks were continuing with leaders in Manchester about increasing restrictions in and around the city.

He added that talks were planned this week with South Yorkshire, West Yorkshire, Nottinghamshire, the North East and Teesside.

Hartlepool Borough Council leader Shane Moore said no talks had happened since Friday, when the Tees Valley and the North East were given a reprieve from the toughest measures.

UNDER THREAT: Hartlepool

He tweeted: “Apparently it was announced in the House of Commons earlier that there were talks happening in relation to #Hartlepool & wider #TeesValley going into Tier 3. This is untrue.

“No talks with us since update on Friday & if anyone suggests it to me this week they’ll be told to sod off.”

Asked if Hartlepool will be placed in Tier 3 next week, Mr Moore replied on Twitter:

what local leaders were told on Friday – that there are NO imminent plans to move our area to tier 3.”

Gateshead Council leader Martin Gannon said the government should listen to local politicians more about Tier 3 restrictions.

He said even taking into account the large number of students who have tested positive for coronavirus, “the underlying numbers are coming under control in the North East”.

He said: “Matt Hancock and his colleagues need to stop dictating to us and start listening to our strategy and to concede that they need to work with us not against us.”

Last night talks between Manchester Mayor Andy Burnham and the government broke down, leading to the Greater Manchester region having Tier 3 restrictions imposed.

Bletchley Park war success ‘overrated’

CODE-breaking hub Bletchley Park’s contribution to World War Two is often overrated by the public, an official history of UK spy agency GCHQ says.

The new book – Behind the Enigma – is based on access to top secret GCHQ files.

“Bletchley is not the war winner that a lot of Brits think it is,” said the author, Professor John Ferris of the University of Calgary.

But he said Bletchley still played an important role.

During World War Two, staff at Bletchley Park in Buckinghamshire worked to decrypt Nazi Germany’s messages – including most famously of all, the Enigma communications.

FERN’S JOY FOR INNOCENT PAL JOHN

FERN Britton took to Twitter to show her support for her former This Morning co-star John Leslie.

The ex-Blue Peter presenter, 55, was earlier this week found not guilty of sexual assault – and pal Fern celebrated the news on social media.

“@johnlesliestott Has been found not guilty,” Fern, 63, wrote, alongside three celebration emojis.

Her followers were quick to comment on her post. One wrote: “Great news. Hopefully people will leave him alone now, it’s a shame John is not on TV anymore he was and is a great presenter and a lovely man... always kind to his fans. Big hugs.”

A second added: “No wonder he was found not guilty. He did nothing wrong and never would.

Met John several times when he came into the pub in Edinburgh that I used to work in. One of the most down to earth blokes I have ever met.”

And a third wrote: “Very pleased at this. You have been a true friend to him.”

Leslie had been on trial at Southwark Crown Court, accused of grabbing a woman’s breasts at a Christmas party in 2008.

AMANDA HOLDEN FANNY BATTER HELL!

Trolls taunt telly babe about minge stains

she can walk around naked in my house all the time

EVIL internet trolls have warned Amanda Holden she risks staining her sofa with FANNY BATTER after she revealed she goes around her home NAKED!

The Britain's Got Talent judge admitted she often walks around the house in the nuddy and that her daughters have to ask her to cover up her modesty.

Amanda, 49, said how she is often caught in the nude at home and how much it "annoys" daughters Lexi, 14, and eight-year-old Hollie.

She said: "What really annoys them is that I'm naked at home."

"Last night I went to say goodnight to Lexie wearing only my shower cap and she screamed, 'Mum! I'm on FaceTime! Why do you always have to be naked?!'"

Gutter

But while most fans enjoyed the charming insight into Amanda's home life, others took it upon themselves to drag the discussion into the gutter after her comments were reported on the Daily Mail's hate-filled website.

Grossly suggesting that FANNY BATTER from Amanda's WET VAGINA would mark the soft furnishings, Mail reader Charlotte Asquith from Virginia Water in Surrey, jeered: "Imagine all the stains on the carpet and sofas."

And another reader from Harlow in Essex slavered: "She can walk around naked in my house at any time."

It comes just weeks after Amanda's outfit on BGT – which featured a sheer black lace bustier and thigh-high split – sparked hundreds of Ofcom complaints.

SUMFIN'S GON RONG...

LIBRARY bosses were left red-faced after a contractor marking off spots for the building's vehicles painted "LIBRARY VEHICLES ONLY" – despite the word "library" being clearly visible on the building itself.

Joe Backe, director of communications for the Indianapolis Public Library, said that the markings will be corrected.

At least the library has a sense of humour about the situation, tweeting a link of the story and musing: "We don't see what is so funny? (laugh emoji) 2020. What can we say?"

Tiger King's Carole Baskin: I'm bisexual

TIGER King star Carole Baskin has revealed she likes cock AND minge!

"I have always considered myself to be bisexual," Baskin, 59, said.

"Even though I've never had a wife, I could just as easily have a wife as a husband – I just don't see us as being different genders or different colours, or different anything."

Baskin (above) came to that realisation while engaged to a psychologist immersed in the LGBTQ community at the heights of the AIDS crisis in the 1980s, saying: "I became very close to people in that community then."

The big-cat rights activist revealed that, growing up, she was "always very male-oriented in the things I did," explaining she felt she was "probably born into the wrong body" because she was such a "tomboy."

GOING to the pub. Remember that?

You used to be able to waltz in, lean on the bar, chat up the barmaid and sup to your heart's content.

Now many boozers – such as those in Liverpool and Wales – are closed.

Even Liverpool's famous Cavern Club has been forced to lock its doors as the city was plunged into the dreaded Tier 3.

It's gonna be a LONG winter, folks.

To cheer ourselves up, let's look back at the days when going to the pub was just plain FUN!

If you were very lucky, your local could even have been visited by a brace of Sport stunnas.

Way back in 2005, for example, regulars at the Eight Bells boozier in Manchester did a doubletake when Sport belles Lorna Hogan and Bobbi walked in.

The lads all cheered when 32DD Lorna and 34D Bobbi whipped out their breast assets.

Landlord Howard Brown said: "Their faces were a picture. But you can hardly blame them, they are good-looking girls."

Stay strong, fellas. The good days will be back... eventually!

Dom to play Prince Charles in The Crown

DOMINIC West is being lined up to play the Prince of Wales in The Crown.

The Affair star (above) would take over the role of Charles from Josh O'Connor, who joined the cast for the third and upcoming fourth series.

It is understood no contracts have been signed yet – but should West assume the role, he would star opposite Elizabeth Debicki as Princess Diana.

She will replace Emma Corrin, who will star as the young royal bride when the fourth instalment debuts on Netflix next month.

It has already been announced that Imelda Staunton will replace Olivia Colman as the Queen for the fifth and sixth series, while Lesley Manville will take over the role of Princess Margaret from Helena Bonham Carter.

West, 51, hit the headlines after being spotted “kissing” actress Lily James, 31, in Rome, despite insisting his marriage to wife Catherine Fitzgerald is “strong”.

Flasher ordered to keep it in trousers

CONVICTED flasher Paul Hobbs has been banned from taking off his trousers.

Hobbs, 35, was found guilty of exposing his genitals in Bristol on March 20 last year, intending that someone would see them and be caused alarm or distress.

Bristol magistrates handed him a community order, which included six months of mental health treatment.

Hobbs, of Southmead, Bristol, was also given a five-year Sexual Harm Prevention Order.

He is banned, while in any vehicle, from unzipping, loosening or removing trousers, shorts or any other garment covering his genitalia, or taking any action that would result in his genitalia being exposed in any public place or private place to which the public have access or direct line of sight.

COPS 'SENT FAKE ROYAL PORN ON WHATSAPP'

MEMBERS of a “toxic” police unit sent “explicit and highly offensive” fake pornographic images of the Royal Family to a work’s WhatsApp group, a disciplinary hearing heard.

Six officers from Hampshire Police’s Serious Organised Crime Unit office in Basingstoke are accused of breaching professional standards by using “abhorrent” language and sending explicit messages and are facing a three-week tribunal in Winchester.

Jason Beer QC, presenting the case against the officers, said following an anonymous complaint, covert recording devices were placed in the unit’s offices between March 9 and April 2, 2018.

On May 22, 2018, PC James Oldfield is said to have posted a Photoshopped image of the wedding of the Duke and Duchess of Sussex, which showed a black man exposing his genitals and the caption referred to the unit’s only black officer.

Mr Beer suggested it was racist to send the image of a “black man with his penis out”, but Oldfield said in interview that he was “not a racist person”.

Mr Beer said on the same day, Det Constable Andrew Ferguson sent an image to the Socu WhatsApp group showing the Duke of Sussex having anal sex with the Duchess of Cambridge.

Mr Beer said that Ferguson admitted it was “completely inappropriate” and added: “With hindsight there is absolutely nothing funny about it – it falls well below the professional standards expected of me.”

Oldfield, Ferguson and four other officers all deny gross misconduct.

The hearing continues.

BUM SEX ORGIES ARE BANNED AT MEG'S £11M MANSION

FILTH: Porn movies like this were shot at an LA mansion similar to Meg and Harry's

HIDDEN PARADISE: Shots of Harry and Meghan's swanky new LA home

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

ANAL sex is officially BANNED at Prince Harry and Meghan's swanky new mansion.

A rental website offers up the Duke and Duchess' Californian home as the backdrop for photo shoots, music videos and other engagements.

The mansion is listed as an “Italian Villa” and can be rented for a minimum of 10 hours.

But according to the listing, there is no smoking, no pets, no cooking and no booze allowed.

And ADULT FILMING is also banned, meaning any potential bum sex shoots are a no-no.

Private

The discreet property, in Montecito – about an hour's drive from Los Angeles – can apparently accommodate a crew of 15 people and private parking for 50.

It appears the listing was first posted before the ex-royals bought the home in the summer for £11.3million, but it is still active and reveals never-before-seen photos of the interior before the couple moved in with baby Archie.

The snaps offer a close-up of its stunning exterior, with ivy growing up the facade and blue shutters.

The Italian-style villa has impressive archways and greenery all around.

The interior shots reveal dark wood accents and some outdated furniture, although it's believed Harry and Meghan have added their personal touches since moving in.

Surrounded by lush green gardens and overlooking the sea, the home has been described as a “hidden paradise”.

One estate agent who spent an hour inside said it was “designed for someone who never wants to leave home”.

The pair have been holding many paid virtual engagements from the comfort of the home, offering glimpses of the decor, including their neutral tones in the living room.

Just last week, Meghan appeared at Fortune magazine's Most Powerful Women Next Gen Virtual Summit – an online event reserved for invited guests willing to pay a £1,350 fee.

Harry and Meghan moved to Montecito after staying at Tyler Parry's $18million, 12-bedroom, eight-bathroom Beverly Hills home following their move from Canada, after stepping down as senior royals in March.

Their new home's previous owner is thought to have been Russian tycoon Sergey Grishin, who bought the mansion for more than £20million in 2009.

Bukkake

A source said: “This is probably an oversight and the property is no longer available for hire. But when it was, the owner was very clear that he did not want anal sex gang bangs, lesbian mass scissoring, bukkake and group pissing movies filmed there.”

“LA mansions are often used as locations for porn movies and the owner was adamant he did not want this one used for such purposes.”

Geiss what... it's Weinstein The Musical!

GET ready for... Harvey Weinstein – The Musical!

One of Weinstein's many alleged victims has turned her tale of career-ending sexual harassment into a musical that takes to the stage in November.

"The Right Girl", based on the real-life account of the musical's co-writer Louisette Geiss, will debut at the Barrington Stage Company in Pittsfield, Massachusetts.

The musical centres around a fictional character named Eleanor Stark – but "almost all of the dialogue, lyrics and situations" in the play have come from Geiss and other Weinstein survivors, co-writer Howard Kagan said.

Geiss went public with her story at the height of the #MeToo movement in October 2017 and said Weinstein had masturbated in front of her during a 2008 meeting.

Perv Weinstein was found guilty of two rape charges in February 2020 and sentenced to 23 years in prison.

Third of Brits love to have sex outdoors

ONE in three Brits say they are "comfortable" with having sex outside – but it's mainly men, a study shows.

The survey comes after Tier 2 coronavirus restrictions banned couples who live apart from having sex indoors.

A YouGov poll of 1,144 adults – carried out on Monday – found many of us have a relaxed attitude to outdoor sex in the wake of new restrictions, even though sex in public is illegal.

However, the results showed a large difference in views on outdoor sex between men and women.

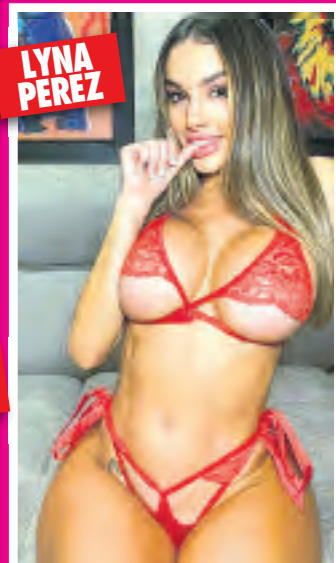

Almost half of males (49%) are comfortable having al fresco nookie, compared to just 17% of females, and 36% of men are uncomfortable with the idea of outdoor sex – compared to 66% of women.

SHARON: I POSED IN PLAYBOY TO FLASH MY MINGE

By GRACE HOOPER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

SHARON Stone has revealed her 1990 spread in Playboy magazine was all part of a plan – to win what became her iconic role as Catherine Tramell in Basic Instinct.

The Ratched actress, 62, said: "When I wanted Basic Instinct, I decided I was going to do a Playboy article, specifically because I wanted to get this film."

However, Sharon admitted: "I didn't realise what would happen when I did the film."

Basic Instinct came out in 1992 and made her a forever sex symbol due to the famous leg-crossing scene in which she revealed her VAGINA.

"I did think it was the right part for me and I knew what I had to do to get it," she said.

Megastar

But she added: "I didn't have enough perspective to realise what was going to happen."

Sharon blew up into a megastar and went on to land parts in Casino, Silver and Catwoman, as well as playing the novelist again in 2006's Basic Instinct 2.

Speaking on the Drew Barrymore Show, two-time divorcee Sharon said: "I'm done dating."

I've had it with dating."

Pressed for why, the mother of three sons said: "Because I just find people to be insincere and not worth my time, and I enjoy my alone time and my time with my kids and my friends more.

"I just feel like I don't need another kid."

"I don't want any insincerity and baloney and game playing."

"And I don't know how to say this in a way that's politically correct."

In the Playboy shoot, Sharon went topless – but did not show off what was to become the world's most-famous fanny.

Let us pray – and work out!

A GYM has worked out a way to stay open under coronavirus restrictions – by rebranding as a church.

"Because fitness classes aren't allowed, we're offering religious gatherings for members of the Church of the Healthy Body," the Atlantic Sports club in Krakow, Poland, said in a Facebook post. "Hard to believe? In this world everything is possible."

Manager Marta Jamróz also dubbed the gym's trainers "the elder council" in the post.

The move comes after Poland shut down most gyms and pools in an effort to curb a surge in Covid-19 infections.

However, church services are still allowed in the devout Catholic country – as long as the faithful wear masks and stick to an attendance limit.

Fact: COVID stops Brits from bonks

MILLIONS of Britons have suffered from high levels of stress during COVID lockdown.

And this has had an impact on our sex lives – with one in 10 Brits not having got intimate in bed since March.

According to research by wellness brand CBI1, loss of libido has been down – in a large part – to anxiety.

Other factors said to have reduced romps during the pandemic include loss of sleep and television.

More than half of the participants (63%) found watching TV was a more enticing form of late-night fun.

Even among those still having sex, the frequency was a lot less than before COVID-19 forced us to stay at home for months.

One in four in this group, who were in a committed relationship or married, said they were only in the mood to bonk a couple of times a month at most.

A study expert said: "People been forced apart for months, or together 24/7 without leaving the house."

Naked teen's salad cream drug carnage

A TEENAGER stripped naked, covered himself in salad dressing and went on a drug-fuelled vandalism spree before crashing a car.

Cops said the unnamed 17-year-old wreaked havoc around 3.30am on Sunday at Petro Deli in Kansas, adding: "He covered himself in ranch salad dressing, damaged property inside a business, ran outside and jumped into a running vehicle, and then crashed into a nearby pillar."

The sheriff's office said they believe he was under the influence of drugs and brought him to a local hospital for treatment.

No charges have been filed, but authorities said the incident is under investigation.

DRUNK HAS SEX WITH TAXI

A DRUNK football fan who simulated having sex on a taxi bonnet with his trousers down has been put on a 'tag'.

The shocked cabbie had arrived to pick up a fare from a house when a stranger jumped up onto the front of his vehicle.

An elderly couple also saw the antics of David Bruce outside their home on May 25 last year in Dunfermline.

After a trial at Dunfermline Sheriff Court earlier this year, Bruce was found guilty of jumping onto the bonnet of a taxi with his trousers down and rubbing his genitals on the vehicle, simulating sexual intercourse and committing a breach of the peace.

Sentencing of Bruce, 36, of Kirkcaldy, had been delayed on several occasions after the guilty verdict.

Bruce told the court he'd been out celebrating after watching Celtic win the Scottish Cup final to clinch the 'Treble Treble'.

Court hears he was celebrating Celtic cup win

By ALI FRASER

news@sundaysport.co.uk

A 63-year-old witness told the trial she heard someone singing outside and thought it was a passing football fan.

She told the court: "That was the day Celtic won the treble and I thought, 'Somebody is happy out there'. Then I heard banging and looked outside. There was a man singing at the top of his voice."

She said he jumped onto a taxi and then simulated sex on the bonnet, adding: "He was making thrusting movements and by this time, his trousers were down."

Her 76-year-old hubby said he had been out walking his dog when the incident started and went back inside.

He then watched from an upstairs window with his wife and saw the drunk man peeing against a wooden fence.

He told the court: "He then started rubbing his private parts up and down on the fence. It was as if he was trying to have sex with it."

Dive

"He threw himself in front of a minibus and started rubbing himself on it, like he had been doing with the fence."

"His trousers fell down and he took a dive on the path of one of the houses."

Sheriff Charles MacNair imposed a six-month restriction of liberty order.

DRUNK RUBS HIS WILLY ON COP CAR

A MAN was arrested for "rubbing his genitals" on a police car, before being told by officers to wash the vehicle.

Surrey Police officers were in Staines responding to an unrelated matter when the man approached the marked vehicle.

In a post on the Spelthorne Beat Facebook page, police said that the drunk man "thought it would be rather funny to rub his genitals on the handle".

He was then arrested and had to spend the night in a police cell, with cops then telling him to wash the police car before leaving as part of his conditional caution.

The full post from police said: "Police had an unusual incident last night in Staines town centre.

"While responding to an unrelated matter an intoxicated gentleman thought it would be rather funny to rub his genitals on the handle of a marked police vehicle.

"Wasn't so funny when he was arrested and

ONE of the kinky S&M babes caught romping with a VICAR on a church ALTAR is a PVC-clad vice queen who specialises in torturing men's BUMS!

Mindy Dixon uses an 18-INCH-LONG, arm-thick strap on dildo to bum men up the arse and also FISTS paying punters while wearing an All Creatures Great And Small-style arm-length rubber glove.

Earlier this month it was reported how Mindy Dixon, 41, and 23-year-old Melissa Cheng travelled to Pearl River, Louisiana, for the filmed session with the Reverend Travis Clark, 37, at the Saints Peter and Paul Roman Catholic Church.

The dominatrices, dressed in corsets and high-heeled boots at the time, were arrested alongside the priest.

The trio were charged with obscenity.

Rev Clark, who was ordained in 2013, was suspended from the archdiocese following his arrest.

Fisting

Cheng and Dixon insist they're innocent because all parties were adults and the incident took place behind closed doors on private property – and that it was the passerby who looked in who was to blame.

Seattle-based Mindy, who uses the stage name Lady Vi, reacted by posting on Twitter a GIF of a horned red devil dancing in a sexually suggestive manner, captioned: "This is my official fing statement."

Other posts on her X-rated Twitter feed show her fisting and bumming a bald bloke who appears to be enjoying the unnatural torment of his nipsy.

Mindy describes herself as "the embodiment of sin exquisitely crafted into flesh and bone' and promotes her dungeon and S&M catalogue – emphasizing that she does not have sex with her clients and nor will her clients be allowed to touch her.

"Come to my flame little moth, feel the heat from my fire and prepare to burn for my affections," she writes.

"I have been told I am an addiction; a disease for which there is no cure. My beauty is intoxicating; taking a sip is not recommended for the faint of heart.

"I am highly skilled at weaponizing lust and using it to bring men and women to their knees."

Dixon is also a political activist who champions the rights of sex workers on her Instagram page.

On Twitter, she calls herself: 'Proprietress of the Church of Satanatrix'.

Ahead of meeting the Rev Clark, Mindy said on social media that she was travelling to the New Orleans area to 'defile a house of God' with another dominatrix.

Melissa Cheng describes herself as a 'Chinese/German 5'11 Goddess' based near Atlanta, but moving back to LA in 2020.

Criminal

All three were arrested at the scene and charged with obscenity, but their lawyer told DailyMail.com that they were not to blame.

The doms' lawyer, Bradley Phillips, said: "All parties involved were consenting adults. "Everything that occurred took place behind closed doors, on private property, and none of the conduct alleged was criminal in nature."

"The fact that this involved a priest or took place in a church is completely irrelevant. "The only pertinent question is if it took place in view of the public. Clearly, that is not the case."

"The evidence will show that an individual had to enter the church's private property and look through a window to see what was taking place. By definition, then, it was not in public view."

Gregory Aymond, the archbishop of the New Orleans archdiocese, has since visited the church to perform a ritual to restore the sanctity of the altar.

Church law says that when sacred places are violated they must be 'repaired by penitential rite' before they can be used again.

Naked swim perv shat in public pool

A NAKED swimmer accused of exposing himself at pools and SHITTING in the water at one has apologised as he faced magistrates.

Deane Richard Roach, 43 (above), faces 13 charges, including acts of indecency, property damage and stalking.

Among the pools he targeted was Club Lime at the Australian National University in Canberra, where he is alleged to have entered the pool naked, standing at the end of a lane where a female swimmer was training.

She saw Roach was naked, standing with his legs apart, in a "proud stance".

Roach is also accused of making several visits to the new Stromlo Leisure Centre where he was allegedly seen in a children's pool, naked below the water, holding his bathers.

Court documents say there were complaints about him exposing himself to staff, and at one point allegedly defeating in the pool.

Magistrates referred Roach to hospital for an assessment.

Bush w*nker gets scalded

A PERV caught wanking in the bushes went for a woman with a knife when she confronted him – and got a cup of hot coffee thrown at his privates.

Cops say an 18-year-old female was walking in the park, bordered by the Welland River and Welland Recreational Canal in Ontario, Canada, when she noticed a man in a bush performing an indecent act.

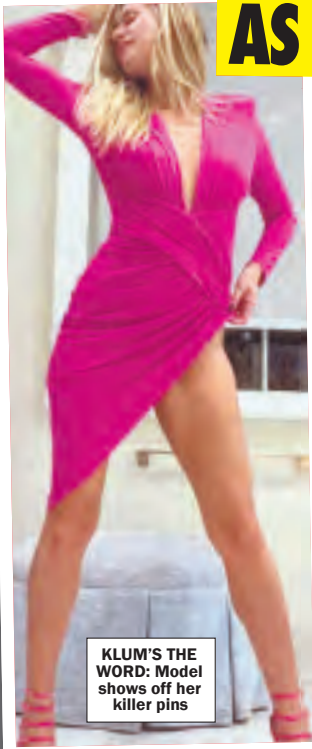

Niagara Regional Police said the man approached her and pulled out a knife.

She threw a coffee on his wagging cock, which caused him to flee on the island's trail system.

Police said the victim lost sight of the suspect as he ran off.

Uniformed officers and a canine unit responded to the park to search for the suspect, but were unable to locate him.

The suspect is a lighter skin-tone south Asian male in his 20s.

LOVELY legs... what time do they open?

Thankfully, nobody would be crass enough to repeat that sexist gag to German supermodel Heidi Klum.

But the babe's amazing pins were certainly eye-catching in a recent series of social media posts.

The America's Got Talent judge, 47, showed off her lengthy legs in a series of glamorous and racy outfits photographed during fittings in her dressing room.

Long, slender legs are obviously a must-have for top-flight models.

But it's not just catwalk queens who have pins to drool over.

Here are FIVE pages of pics especially for the leg men among you...

A MURDEROUS RAGE THAT NEVER WENT AWAY

CRYING SHAME: A teenage Mark Robinson (right) wept as he was jailed for the murder of Patricia Wagner (above)

MARK Robinson started young. He was just 17 when he strangled Patricia Anne Wagner to death.

The body of the popular housewife was found by her eight-year-old son in the living room of their council house on Newbury Way in the Low Grange area of Billingham, Teesside.

It was May 27, 1979 – the day before Patricia's 33rd birthday.

By KOURTNEY KENNEDY
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A team of 50 detectives, led by Cleveland CID's chief superintendent Norman Hudson, was drafted in to track down the killer.

In Hudson's time as head of CID, not one murder went unsolved.

And this one would be no different.

Patricia had been found in the living room in her nightdress.

A window and the back door were unlocked, but there were no visible signs of a break-in.

Patricia had been divorced from her first husband, with whom she had three sons, and then married American oilman Glen Wagner in June 1978.

In January 1979, the couple had gone on holiday to America.

Patricia returned in May, leaving her husband in the States.

Socialising

Described as the 'life and soul of the party', Patricia had enjoyed socialising in bars and nightclubs in the Billingham, Stockton and Hartlepool areas.

So it came as no surprise that the police investigation focused on those spots.

But her killer was much closer to home.

In fact, Mark Robinson's family lived on the same street as Patricia.

He had joined the RAF a month before and had returned home on leave that weekend for the spring bank holiday.

A neighbour reported seeing the teenager walking in the rain towards Patricia's home not two hours after she was last seen alive.

Robinson was arrested and, as he was questioned, police were able to piece together what had happened that fateful evening.

On the night of May 26 she had gone to her mother's house across the street to take a telephone call from her husband in America.

She returned home at around 11.30pm. It was then that Robinson turned up.

The teenager had known Patricia for some time and had gone to her house as he wanted sex.

He tricked his way in by pretending he was drunk and had mistaken the house.

He later told police that he knew Patricia was 'a good thing'.

They began talking and ended up chatting late into the night.

Robinson claimed Patricia had threatened to tell his mother that he had spent the night with her.

This, he said, annoyed him.

He said he'd 'gone off' the idea of having sex with her after she started talking about her past sexual exploits.

"It wasn't a sex attack," he told detectives.

Slut

"The way she went on about her past life put me off."

"It was her going to tell my mam I'd been with her. All I was bothered about was my mam finding out."

Robinson claimed he had stood up to leave but lost his temper, calling her a 'slut' and hitting her in the face.

In a desperate bid to protect herself, Patricia had tried to grab the

TEMPER: Robinson got into bother in prison

IN FRIDAY'S

VICTIM:
Sharon
Morley was

Robinson

FREED...TO KILL AGAIN

wanted to move back to Wakefield, which caused arguments.

On September 19, 1989, Robinson found a photo of Sharon's former boyfriend.

In the argument that followed, he beat and repeatedly stabbed the 25-year-old to death.

The senseless murder came just seven months after his release.

At Newcastle Crown Court, after being found guilty by a jury of Sharon's murder, Robinson was told he would spend the rest of his life behind bars.

Punched

Serving his whole life tariff, Robinson gained a reputation as one of Britain's most dangerous prisoners.

In 2005, he was given an additional eight-year sentence for causing grievous bodily harm to a prison officer at Long Lartin jail in Worcestershire.

The attack on wing officer David Scott had occurred just two days after Robinson had arrived at the prison.

Leeds Crown Court

heard how he was working as a kitchen cleaner and had a dispute with Mr Scott over the need for rubbish bins in the area.

When Mr Scott opened the gate to the yard so that Robinson could take the rubbish to a wheelie bin, he was punched once on the left side of his face – 'which caused a loud thud on contact'.

Mr Scott was left unconscious and suffered a depressed fracture to his left cheekbone which needed four stitches above his left eye.

He also sustained bruising to his eye and elbow from the fall.

The court heard how Robinson assaulted another prison officer while being transferred from Full Sutton jail, near York, to Long Lartin.

He punched the man seven times in the face as he was released from a cell inside the prison van.

Before the sentencing hearing started, Judge James Stewart QC told Robinson he recommended that the defendant sought legal representation.

Robinson declined, saying: "I'm doing life – I'm never getting out."

After that incident, he was moved to Wakefield Prison in West Yorkshire – dubbed Monster Mansion as it houses some of Britain's most notorious lags.

Kicked

In 2014, he got in trouble there, too.

Robinson reportedly 'kicked off' after his bread ration was cut, leading to five prison officers requiring hospital treatment.

He said he was unhappy his quota was changed from two loaves weekly to two to three slices a day.

As he was being taken back to his cell from collecting a meal in the 'close supervision centre', 20-stone Robinson told an officer: 'I'm not happy with the bread situation. I'm not happy. I might kick off.'

Within a matter of seconds Robinson, who is over 6ft 6in tall, threw his tray in the air and kicked the officer in the groin so hard it lifted him off the ground.

Other officers went to his assistance – including Craig Dudley, who was punched in the face with such force it broke his nose.

It took 10 officers to subdue Robinson, one of whom suffered a perforated eardrum in the melee.

In the end, a total of five officers needed hospital treatment.

Robinson refused to leave his cell and was sentenced to three years in his absence for assault and affray.

The murderous rage that boiled inside him as a teen hasn't diminished one bit. Prison hasn't tamed him.

Which only makes it all the more tragic that he was ever freed to kill again.

McKeown
'groomed'

Sex Miss grabbed teen's hard privates

A TEACHER allegedly told a teenage boy he looked "sexy" and asked if he thought her breasts were "too big", a court heard.

Gaye McKeown allegedly plied students with cigarettes and alcohol as she groomed them for sexual relationships in the 1990s.

Then known as Mrs Smith, the English teacher was 27 and married at the time prosecutors allege she had oral and vaginal sex with two 15-year-old boys at Birrong Boys' High School in Sydney, Australia, over the course of a month.

The jury was told that one time when she was driving one boy, she grabbed his crutch and told him: "Show me how you use it."

Flirting

One of the boys was allegedly paid for his silence after he broke it off with the teacher, her trial heard.

McKeown, now 50, has pleaded not guilty to 21 charges, including several counts of sexual intercourse without consent and indecent assault, and one of inciting an indecent assault – all aggravated by the allegation the boys were underage and under her care.

Crown prosecutor David Patch told the jury she "gradually transformed" academic compliments to flirting in the schoolyard, telling one boy "aren't we a sexy man today"; that he had "hot legs" and "really cute eyes".

It allegedly showed the boy her cleavage, asking "Do you like my breasts? Do you think they're too big?"

She allegedly began initiating sex with one boy.

"That is so hot," she allegedly said, grabbing the boy's erect penis and placing it in her mouth.

On another occasion she allegedly said to the boy "I want to taste you again" before giving him oral sex.

McKeown admits she did have sex with the first complainant but claims that was only after he turned 16 and when she was no longer working at the school.

She denies any sexual or indecent contact with the second complainant.

The trial continues.

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

FORGET COVID...BORIS AND CO SHOULD BE AFRAID OF ANGRY BRITS!

IMAGINE looking over the fence and seeing your smug neighbour's garden full of naked women, free beer, baking hot sunshine and a selection of freshly-barbecued steaks to choose from.

You'd be pretty jealous, right? Yet for those who aren't there – yet – that's what it's like for those of us who are living in a coronavirus "Tier 3" area.

I'm one of the poor saps being held captive in my area of relatively low COVID-19 rates who are nonetheless being punished because people miles and miles and an entire fking estuary away from me – but still technically in the same "city region" – have caught the cold.

We live in Wirral, a chunk of sandstone that sits between North Wales and Liverpool.

Surrounded

We're surrounded on three sides by water.

We were the place where the Government decided to quarantine the first batch of people to be flown to Blighty from the plague's hometown of Wuhan in China.

At the time, many suggested we'd been singled out because a peninsula would be fairly easy to seal off from the rest of the country.

Just seal up the Mersey Tunnels, block the M53, and set up a few roadblocks. Job done.

We laughed at how ridiculous a notion that would actually be, but with Tier 3 status – imposed because of rising COVID-19 rates across the mile-wide Mersey in Liverpool – and we're effectively there now.

Or some of us are.

Just fifteen minutes down the road from our house, the good people of Ellesmere Port and Neston – who are also part of geographical Wirral, but under a different council – can still go to a pub without any of the faff of being forced to also pay for a "substantial meal".

Not for them a surcharge of a tenner or so for a plate of lumpy stuff you don't actually want just to get out of the house for a bit.

This is complete madness.

And after chucking a load of money at some of us to stay in back in March, we're now told to do it all again – but, whether we mind or not, to pay for it ourselves.

What this means in reality is that all our household bills go up.

If you're at home all day, you use more electricity, and certainly more heating now that our lovely British weather is upon us.

You'll eat more of your grub that would otherwise sit happily in your fridge waiting for you to return home in the evening.

And precisely none of our bills are going to be reduced by a third, even though chancellor Rishi Sunak expects us all to cheerfully accept only two-thirds of a normal pay packet.

Dying

Meanwhile, old people are still dying from old age and all the ailments that come with it, and young people are, by a vast majority, getting on with life.

The biggest problem that our Government faces now is not the plague, or Brexit, or economic meltdown, or the clap.

It's people.

We are getting more and more pissed off with this utter shambles – and we all know what happens when a manager loses the dressing room...

Dealer nets £150k from trafficking squirrels!

SEVEN people have been charged as part of a trafficking ring that sent thousands of flying squirrels from Florida to South Korea.

Poachers in central Florida set around 10,000 traps to snare the flying animals – a protected species in the state – before selling them to a licensed wildlife dealer who claimed to his buyers they were captive-bred.

The wildlife dealer, from Florida, worked with couriers from Georgia, who drove the squirrels to Chicago, where they were then shipped by an unwitting international wildlife exporter to Asia.

In three years, the trafficking ring moved 3,600 squirrels while the Florida wildlife dealer illegally netted more than £150k.

An investigation was launched after the Fisheries and Wildlife Commission was tipped off last year to illegal squirrel trapping in Marion County.

The seven suspects were hit with a variety of charges, including racketeering, scheme to defraud and dealing in stolen property.

Brother shoots dead own twin

A MAN who allegedly shot his twin brother dead has been arrested and charged with manslaughter.

Thomas Parkinson Freeman, 23, was sitting in a parked car with his brother in Gulfport, near Tampa in Florida, when the shooting took place.

Police said Thomas and his brother Mathias were joking around when Mathias pulled out a gun and pointed it at his sibling.

Thomas responded by pulling out another gun and shooting Mathias in the face.

"Detectives concluded that Thomas was not acting in self-defence when he drew and fired his gun because he told detectives he was not in fear and that he did not believe Mathias had any intention of shooting him," police claim.

Mathias was rushed to hospital where he was pronounced dead.

LOCKDOWN GANGBANG BUSTED BY RIOT COPS

Porn boss arrested in raid

ORGANISER:
Porn movie man Torbe

TRUNCHEON-WIELDING cops broke up a mass gangbang-style orgy as eager crowds queued outside to be filmed having sex.

The event was reportedly advertised as "a crime against public health" before taking place in a fifth-floor studio flat.

Dozens of participants waited outside the area in Madrid's San Blas neighbourhood in the hope of joining in.

Undercover officers headed down to the scene after being tipped off about the sex party.

They were let into the flat by revellers who mistook them for orgy participants.

The multi cops were later backed up by the riot squad.

Cocaine

Illegal drugs including cocaine and liquid ecstasy were seized from the flat, which had been rented for a week by a partygoer involved.

Three organisers have been warned they now face heavy fines for the unlicensed sex event.

One of the organisers is said to be porn director Ignacio Allende, 51, better known as 'Torbe'.

Torbe spent seven months on remand in prison in 2016 after being arrested on suspicion of sex crimes.

He is yet to go on trial. It comes after the Spanish government declared a 15-day state of emergency in order to bring down soaring coronavirus infection rates in Madrid.

Restrictions have been placed on gatherings, while there is a ban on leaving or entering the city unless it is for work or humanitarian reasons.

Strippers overturn COVID ban

A COURT has banned authorities from imposing a COVID-19 curfew — thanks to some angry strippers.

The Florida city of Miami announced that police will no longer enforce the four-month-old curfew following a court victory by a local strip club.

Tootsie's Cabaret sued Miami-Dade County to overturn the restrictions that forced businesses — including clubs, bars and restaurants — to close between midnight and 6am.

The nude bar argued that the curfew conflicted with a decree by Governor Ron DeSantis in September.

The Governor's order barred local governments from issuing COVID-19 restrictions that cut a food establishment's capacity below 50% or from issuing rules that would rob people of employment.

A judge on Florida 11th Circuit Court agreed with the jiggle joint.

Judge Beatrice Butchko ruled that Miami-Dade was banned from enforcing the curfew.

Miami-Dade County Mayor Carlos Gimenez said the county would appeal Butchko's ruling, but that unless the decision is reversed, the curfew would be unenforceable.

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Ashleigh,

A PAL of mine organised an orgy and invited me and the wife along for some saucy fun and games.

It was being held in a posh hotel and the idea was for all the girls to wear suspenders and stockings.

The wife was reluctant but agreed – so long as we just watched rather than got stuck in.

We're both in our mid-40s and when we got there, as agreed, I stood around watching everyone servicing each other.

After a while, I noticed that the wife was missing so I took a wander along to another room – and saw her on all fours.

She was being rogered by a young stud from behind while she tucked in to a girl's bald fanny with her tongue.

I stormed off and now we're not talking.

What should I do?

FH, Glasgow

Ashleigh says...

GO to the next one and get stuck k in yourself!

Dear Ashleigh,

FEELING a bit on the tubby side just lately, I decided it was about time I got myself fit.

So I joined a health club and went for a swim. I was about to plunge in when I spotted a very tasty looking woman of about 30 in a skimpy yellow bikini.

We were alone in the pool and I felt a stiffy coming on. She must have sensed what I was thinking as she swam over and straight out said she wanted a shag.

She stood against the side wall and eased her bikini bottoms aside as I penetrated her. I started to build up a rhythm when one of the assistants appeared and called out: "Stop right now!"

My erection vanished and we both exited the pool, arranging to meet in the car park. There I set about her but I couldn't get it up.

Could I get a refund on my health club membership.

NT, Hull

Ashleigh says...

YOU can try but it'll get you nowhere.

Missus only wants us to get dirty in the shower

Dear Ashleigh,

AFTER 15 years of marriage, which began with rampant nookie, things have gone very quiet on the sex front.

But it all changed the other night when I was getting myself ready for bed.

I went to the bathroom and surprisingly found the door unlocked and the wife in the shower.

And what a shock I got. The missus was thrusting a huge, pink dildo inside her pussy like a pneumatic drill.

Her head was thrown back and she was feeling her nipples with her free hand.

I tore aside the shower curtain, grabbed the dildo and threw it out of the bathroom onto the landing.

Then I ripped off my pyjamas to reveal my throbbing eight-incher.

"Is this what you've been missing?" I demanded.

Before she could reply I slipped my cock into her sopping wet love-hole and rammed her hard up against the wet tiles inside the shower.

But now, although our sex life is definitely on the up, she'll only let me do her in the shower.

What do you reckon?

JK, Notts

Ashleigh says...

DON'T worry about it, there's nothing like good, clean fun!

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week ASHLEIGH GEE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Wife and her pals love to play with my model cock!

Dear Ashleigh,

RECENTLY, more for novelty than anything sexually kinky, my wife and I invested a decent amount of money in a "mould-a-willy" kit.

This get-up enables a man to make a lifesize replica of his own cock using plaster of Paris and moulding rubber.

Without wanting to sound massively big-headed, I was rather proud of the model, as it put my wife's other sex toys in the shade.

Me and my wife had hours of fun as I used my real cock on her backside and frigged away with the rubber one on her muff.

The other week she went to a sex toys party at a friend's house and took my plaster cock along with her for a laugh.

Naughty

But when she got home, she said all her mates were hooked on the idea and asked if we could make at least another half-dozen to sell to her friends.

I said OK as long as she put on a show for me with all the great naughty gear she'd bought at the party.

Soon she was in a tiny maid's outfit, white fishnets and suspenders sucking on my manhood while I delivered my fake cock up her pussy.

Then I put our friend to one side and gave her a proper shafting with the real thing.

She'd soon sold all the moulded willies we made and I started to get knowing smiles and cheeky comments from women in the village.

One even insisted on taking me down the back fields and getting a taste of the real thing.

She sucked so hard on my cock it was painful and then she demanded I do her doggy-style out in the open.

Since then I've had hot sex with nearly all my wife's friends.

My missus doesn't mind and wants to go on selling my cock dildos.

But I've already had one angry run-in with a furious husband and now I am beginning to regret the whole thing.

SD, east Yorkshire

Dear Ashleigh,

MY girlfriend is gorgeous but she is also into energetic bondage.

She's had me parading round naked with a lead around my neck, and I've been forced to bark and beg for sex.

I have to lap water from a bowl at the foot of the bed before she'll let me give her a tonguing, and all this palaver is getting me down when all I want is a straightforward shag.

For the past week at bedtime she has tied me up to the bedpost before sucking my cock.

It turns me on, but at times I feel humiliated. What can I do?

PD, Essex

Ashleigh says...

HOW much are you charging for them? I'd really like a go on one myself.

Ashleigh says...

NOTHING, I'm afraid. She won't change now.

I feel cobblers after corn-shagging wife

Dear Ashleigh,

I'VE been reading in your paper's great columns how couples indulge in all sorts of exotic sexual practices – even if some of them are enough to make my eyes water.

Although I've been married for 15 years, the most adventurous I've managed to get with the missus was the night I took her doggy-style over the balcony on holiday.

She seemed to enjoy it, although that might have had something to do with the vast quantity of wine that we'd put away.

I've always fancied trying out a cucumber or carrot on her but was inspired when I heard a programme on the radio about barbecues and sweetcorn.

So the other night after a bit of booze I produced a corn cob, and as the missus was bent over the sink I rubbed it along her bum crack.

Thinking it was my cock, she turned expectantly and was amazed when she saw me holding the knobbly vegetable – and even more so when I blurted out what I wanted to do with it.

But to my amazement she agreed and, while she lay on the kitchen floor, I inserted it up her moist fanny.

After she'd had a huge orgasm she declared that the cob was better than my knob on account of its extra length, girth and texture.

All well and good, you'd think, but now I'm worried I won't be able to satisfy her again.

What can I do?

DB, Cornwall

Ashleigh says...

PLACE a regular order in with your greengrocer.

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M a very highly-sexed married woman, and until recently I had been faithful to my husband during our 19 years of marriage.

It was my son's 18th birthday and we had a small party at home for the family, his girlfriend and his best mate, who is coming up to 19 years old.

At the end of the night my husband drove my parents and my son's girlfriend home, and my son went with them.

This left me with my son's mate, who was well pissed.

We said he could sleep in my son's room, so I helped him onto the bed and unbuttoned his trousers – and was shocked to see that he wasn't wearing underpants.

Then I felt his hand running up my leg. When he reached the top of my stockings then into my knickers I relaxed back as he fiddled with my love-bud.

I couldn't resist his knob and began sucking him off. I then got into the doggy position and he filled every inch of me.

We've fked many times since and I am thinking of leaving my husband for him.

What do you think?

GL, west Yorks

Ashleigh says...

THOUGH it might be a huge thrill for you I think you're playing with fire and it will end in tears.

...WITH LUCY LY, 30 34D-25-35 FROM NEWCASTLE

MY biggest ever turn-on is a romp with a strangers – there's nothing more thrilling!

I really love being in a relationship, but when I'm not – and I'm single now, fellas – then well, quite frankly, I like to make the most of my freedom.

It's so exciting when you realise you're attracted to someone and they fancy you back. And all the flirting and build-up that follows is so exhilarating.

And when the moment comes and you look at each other, knowing you're about to get naughty, it's such an incredible buzz.

I had the hottest sex with a random guy I met in broad daylight on the tube!

We just got chatting about the theatre and next thing I knew I was having a drink with him... then we were almost shagging in the taxi on the way to his flat!

I don't think it's anything to be ashamed about – humans are just wired to enjoy a rich variety of life.

It's just a part of being alive!

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Small and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

HOLLY HENDERSON

HANDYMAN Jeff Pickering is off on his stag-do next weekend and wanted a saucy photo of Holly Henderson to show to all his mates.

Jeff, 35, from Harrogate, reckons a topless snap of the 32-year-old Liverpool lovely will impress his pals on his stag-do in the historic city of York.

He said: "Can I have a photo of Holly with her 34E norks out please?"

"I'm going on my stag-do next weekend and I need to show my mates, after going on about her for so long."

CIKITA

LOYAL reader Harry Wilson wrote in to request a very specific photo of stunning Czech glamour girl Cikita.

Harry, 68, from Darlington, wrote a letter detailing exactly which photograph of the 32-year-old, from Prague, he wanted to see.

He said: "There's a photo of the beautiful Cikita looking straight at the camera which I'd really like to see in the paper."

"If you could print that for me, with her perfect 34Cs, in Show Me the Honey this week, you'll make an old boy very happy."

Here you go, Harry!

HORNY Hollie Louise has a naughty confession – she loves to get frisky in PUBLIC!

The 23-year-old is always raring to get down and dirty in places she shouldn't.

And Hollie, who boasts 32B curves, said she's determined to play out her fantasy of bonking in a CINEMA, a LIBRARY and even on a BUS!

The blonde scorchers, from Barnsley, South Yorks, said: "It would be a major turn-on to get it on in the back row of a cinema."

"I love being spontaneous and just going for it with a guy, whenever the mood strikes."

"It's such a hot idea doing it at the flicks – it's so naughty as you could be in a room full of people and there's always the risk of getting caught."

"But seeing as it's so dark, and if the back row is empty or doesn't have many people sat there, I think it can be done."

"I love the idea of being in public and just starting to touch each other discreetly."

WAKE-UP CALL:
Son Heung-min

Son: Hammer horror what Spurs needed

SON Heung-min says Spurs' shocker against West Ham could be the kick up the backside the players needed.

Tottenham spaffed a three-goal lead with the Hammers coming from behind to grab a last-gasp draw thanks to a worldie from Manuel Lanzini.

Several pundits have tipped Jose Mourinho's men to be a big noise in what looks set to be a wide open Premier League title race this season.

But they won't get very far if they let three goals in the final 10 minutes again.

The South Korean hitman hopes his teammates learn a painful lesson from the London derby.

He said: "This feeling we should always have in our hearts. It is very important that never happens during this season."

"I think the lads have had a good lesson. It is just so sad. It should never happen again."

"When we score three goals at home we cannot drop points."

Popular

"Obviously it is very sad. Especially the last goal, we cannot do it. The strike was just unbelievable. It is just so sad for me and the team. It is so sad to lose the two points."

Mourinho is fuming about the result but still thinks his defenders are good enough.

Davinson Sanchez has never been popular with the Spurs faithful and it was his own goal that got the ball rolling for West Ham at the weekend.

But the Special One

DODGY DEBUT: Bale

won't be dropping him it seems. He said: "Defensively the team is much better than before."

"Can I say that in all this Premier League that we're playing, five matches, we concede penalties or free-kicks and only one goal from open play."

"Davinson was playing a positive game, to score in his own goal which is obviously football. It's difficult to find."

Gareth Bale came off the bench — with the score at 3-0 — and looked rusty as you might expect on debut.

And Mourinho insists he's happy with what he saw from the Welshman. But he doesn't think he is ready to start games yet.

The Portuguese said: "The decision not to start him was I think a good decision. It was a message to the team that in this team everybody has to fight for positions."

FRANK: I'LL FIX MY LEAKY REAR

Lamps looking to plug gaps at the back

FRANK Lampard says he has the answer to Chelsea's defensive woes.

The Blues have been leaking like a sieve since he took over at Stamford Bridge.

He has the worst defensive record of any Chelsea boss during their first year in the hotseat.

Three more whizzed past under-fire goalie Kepa Arrizabalaga against Southampton at the weekend.

But, despite that, he has got the west Londoners back into the Champions League — and he insists he has a plan to stop shipping goals.

Lamps said: "In terms of

By PAUL THOMAS

the goals conceded, I am aware of that stat — but the other stat is that since I've been here we've conceded the second-least shots in the Premier League, I think behind Manchester City.

"That helps sometimes narrow down some of the issues, and the issues are that we don't concede many shots on our goal, but when we do, we concede goals."

"And it's something we're aware of, and we're aware of when you look at recruitment, but, more importantly than that, when you work every day on the pitch with the players to make sure that when we hopefully set up well we don't concede many chances."

"But the chances we do concede we let in too many, and that's something we work on specifically."

"And of course we want to concede fewer goals, as all teams do at the moment. Teams are conceding a lot of goals in the Premier League, and we're all in a similar position to a degree with that at the moment."

"But it will always be something we work on as much as we do our attacking play."

Critics point to the fact that Lampard was an attacking player and not known for his tackling or defending.

His team reflects that with the Blues looking good in attack but clearly struggling at the other end.

Lampard denies that he can't coach defenders.

He added: "I wouldn't say my DNA is to be a natural attacking manager."

"Every manager wants to build a balanced team and one that can be strong in both defence and attack."

"We're working hard defensively and we're always trying to improve on that."

"The main thing particularly for ourselves is that there has been a lack of preparation which if you're working with new players or small changes, that takes time. And hopefully that will keep improving now."

Liverpool can edge goalfest at Ajax

KEY MAN: Fabinho has a big role to play for Liverpool

ALL eyes are on Liverpool tonight as they play for the first time since their Van broke down.

And it's no easy task heading to Amsterdam to take on an Ajax side who are in good form. OK, the Reds will be much tougher than Heerenveen who were spanked 5-1 at the weekend—but that means confidence is sky high for the Dutchmen.

It will be interesting to see what Jurgen Klopp does without Van Dijk who has been the key man for the past two seasons.

While the plaudits have rightly gone to the likes of Mo Salah and Sadio Mane, until VVD turned up Liverpool were letting in too many silly goals.

That was evident in the Merseyside Derby when Everton made the most of the weakened central defensive area to score two headers.

Can you remember the last time Liverpool conceded two headers with Van Dijk on the pitch?

Klopp has a problem because Joel Matip has just returned from a long-term injury and may not be up for two games in a week.

That means the excellent Fabinho will have to step back from midfield and offer his calming influence at the back alongside a Joe Gomez who has been struggling for a while.

Then we have to talk about

NO VAN BUT KLOPP HAS A PLAN

stand-in goalkeeper Adrian. It's not nice to call a glove-man a clown but it's hard to have any confidence in him looking at how his hands parted like the Red Sea for Michael Keane's goal in the Derby.

And he wasn't in the same postcode as Dominic Calvert-Lewin's header despite it being nowhere near the corner of the net.

The orders for Ajax must be to shoot on sight and it's hard to see the Reds keeping a clean sheet. They have gone three games without a win and have shipped 15 goals in their seven outings this season.

On the plus side, it's hard to see Ajax keeping a clean sheet either.

The bets in this match must be around goals. The Reds have scored at least twice in six of their outings this term and can continue that run here.

The outright Liverpool win looks short at 4/6 with Ajax on offer at 4/1.

The value surely lies in the goal markets. You can pick up a handy 7/4 with Bet365 for Liverpool to win and both teams to score. That looks a decent price to me.

If you're looking for a bigger return, have a couple of small plays in the correct score market.

A Liverpool win 3-2 is 16/1 with Bet365 while the Reds 4-2 is a whopping 28/1 with Sky Bet.

Famous last words but it's hard to see it ending 0-0!

Manchester City take on Porto at the Etihad and there should be plenty of goals here too.

Pep's lads have shipped at least one goal in their past seven Champions League outings and the Portuguese side don't play many goalless draws either.

They head here on the back of a 3-2 defeat against Maritimo after drawing 2-2 with Sporting Lisbon.

City should be much too good but make no appeal for the win at 3/10.

Throw in a goal for Porto and it's suddenly 11/8 on the City win and both teams to score which makes a lot more sense.

The double on Liverpool and City to win and both teams score pays around 11/2 depending on your bookie and that looks fair enough.

GUNNERS HAVE THE FIREPOWER BOOMS LENO

By ANDY MILLOM

BERND Leno thinks Arsenal are ready to break back into the top four under boss Mikel Arteta.

The Gunners are on a shocking run against the "Big Six" and haven't beaten one of those sides on the road since 2015.

They pushed Manchester City all the way at the weekend before falling to a narrow 1-0 defeat. But the way the Londoners pushed the home side has given Leno hope that they can make their presence felt again this season.

The German glove-man said: "We played a good game. We competed against City and at the end you can see that the gap was very small."

"I think when you compare the first game after the lockdown how we played that night when we lost 3-0 to City with how we played on Saturday there's a big, big difference."

"We are going the right way and next week we have to be confident to play like this again."

"I think we missed a little bit of the lucky punch."

Boss Arteta echoes his keeper's thoughts and is taking plenty of pluses into the next few games.

He said: "I'm very encouraged because I see the progress every day. I see how united they come in, I see the chemistry that they are creating them, how much belief they have in what we are trying to do."

"To compare the two games I have had against Manchester City, I don't think it's fair because we had two very early injuries in the first game and we played 45 minutes with 10 men. So it's difficult."

"But the courage as well that we had without the ball and with the ball to play, and create the chances that we created. But at the end of the day, when you go to City and create three or four big chances you have to put them in the net."

Arteta believes things are going the right way as he rebuilds Arsenal in his image.

He added: "I'm extremely proud of the players for the performance they put in, and the type of game that we were able to play."

"Where we took the game, what we were able to do, how we were able to restrict them and for me it was the attitude of the team too."

EURO LEAGUE STUNNER

Liverpool and United 'in talks' over breakaway

MANCHESTER United and Liverpool are in talks to join a new European Premier League.

The tournament is being proposed by FIFA and it would effectively replace the current Champions League.

Reports suggest Liverpool and United are the first two English clubs to be approached over the new 16-18 team tournament.

By JOHN ANTHONY

And they could be followed by up to three more Premier League sides with Manchester City, Spurs, Chelsea and Arsenal all in the picture.

The biggest names from France, Germany, Spain and Italy have also been approached for the new tournament that is backed by £4.5 billion in funding. Teams would stay in their domestic leagues but would play up to 30 times in the European competition too.

There would be a league then a knockout stage with a showpiece final. Each team would make millions of pounds just for turning up.

And they wouldn't have to qualify for it each year like with the current Champions League — clubs would be in wherever they finished in their domestic divisions.

The competition could kick off as soon as 2022 with a formal announcement due within days.
